

SUPPORTED BY

Find My past

The best story is the Warlpiri invasion of Europe when we went to the UN. I went to the United Nations originally and I said this is all wonderful. but it is really a talkfest where the Australian government gets up and tells the world how good they treat the blacks. When you compare that to Africa or South America, we are way out in front in terms of money, and spending, and treatment. They, the Australian government, kept doing this. I said to Dodson. We've go to out-think this process. I said. We need to bring a bit of culture.

THE 2025 LONGLIST

Everyone's talking about these brilliant books @womensprize Find out more: womensprize.com